TOP OF THE MORNING.

It is reported that the Democratic candidate for mayor of St. Louis kield over when he read the returns.

French navy surgeons are now claiming that chemically pure water is dangerous. Most Americans are safe.

President Wilson is said to strongly favor a single tariff measure. Please include our old friend, Schedule K.

A Texas suffragette declares that "the great woman's movement is sweeping the world." Hitherto it has been sweeping the cottage floor.

Peary is in favor of three new polar expeditions, but is not inclined to go himself. Wisdom. One discovery and getting by with it, should be sufficient for any reasonable man.

THE INCOME TAX.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger has the following very sane suggestion regarding the placing of the federal income tax:

"The most equitable tax that man could devise would place upon each shoulder exactly in proportion to income its share of the whole burden to be carried. None outside the pauper class should be exempt, but none should contribute beyond his ability to pay.

"A tax so levied would be the ideal one, but the ingenuity of man has not yet been able to attain that state of perfection. The nearer he comes to it, however, the fairer will be the tax. Each according to his means, but all to contribute something—that should be the American principle of taxation; and no other can long be tolerated.

"When congress shall take up the proposed income tax bill, it should lay aside every bit of demagoguery and hypocrisy. It should cease to consider by classes the laboring man and the multimillionaire, and it should bend itself only to the work of serving all the people dispassionately and fairly.

"The proposition to exempt all incomes from taxation that fall below $5000 is absurd, inequitable and in every respect un-American. United States treasury experts worked hard to find out how many $5000 incomes there are in this country. One reported officially 283,000, and another 413,000. Of incomes reaching $7,500 there were reported to be under 185,000.

LA FOLLETTE ON THE ISSUE

In a signed article in the Weekly bearing his name Senator R. M. La Follette says in part:

The progressive element in the democratic majority of the senate claims to have controlled in the organization of the committees. The methods employed were the same bad old methods which have prevailed for years. They were the methods of Aldrich and Gorman. While the democratic chairmen of most of the important committees of the senate are men whose records are ultra conservative, if not reactionary, it is contended that a majority of the democratic membership of these committees is progressive and in full accord with the president. The measures which these committees report will test the validity of this claim.

The committees of the house have not been named. When the organization of these committees is finally announced, the lines will have been laid down which will determine the legislation of the democratic party for the first two years of President Wilson's administration.

Upon the issue of these two years will turn, in large measure, the success or failure of the democratic party to meet the hopes of the country for a restoration of the standards "so proudly set up at the beginning."

The task is a colossal one. Privilege controls everywhere. Its power is centralized. It is silent, omnipresent. Its orders are known and obeyed without proclamation and without question. It is master of all markets where men and women and little children sell their labor and the products of their labor, and buy back food and clothing and fuel and shelter. It commands the highways on land and sea. It sits in supreme judgment on every business, withdraws capital from the channels of commerce and trade, subverts trust funds to its own use, and grants or withholds life-giving credit at will. It has ruled in the caucuses and conventions of political parties, nominated candidates, named cabinets, selected judges and dictated legislation. It has its own press, its own pulpit, its own creed. It stifles criticism and juggles with public opinion. It attained its principal growth and supreme control under the administrations of Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft. For this the American people defeated the republican party. For this they gave the democratic party another trial.

How will the new administration meet its great responsibility? Obviously it does not propose to temporize. Congress will be convened in extraordinary session promptly. Will it act wisely? It is announced that tariff revision will be undertaken immediately. The economic conditions demand a downward revision of the tariff. A majority of the people of the country have declared for such a revision.

ATTEND THE INSTITUTE TODAY

The News urges all who are interested in the agricultural development of the Amarillo country to attend the Farmers Institute in the court house this afternoon. The Institute will be held under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture, and special speakers, with an expert knowledge of the subjects treated will be present to impart valuable information.

These institutes are worthy of the heartiest endorsement at the hands of all classes of citizens, farmers, bankers, merchants and professional men alike, for the interests of all depend in greatest measure upon the future development of the fertile and fallow acres of this section.

The farming industry should be fostered in every way possible. No seed of suggestion which seems calculated to help the farmers we have or to induce to this section other worthy and industrious agriculturists, should be allowed to fall on barren ground.

In the upbuilding of the Panhandle and the great Amarillo country, one moving plow is more potential than a hundred mouthing politicians. The plow is the forerunner of real civilization, and furnishes the economic sinews of any country.

Farming in this section has proved its paying possibilities. That the acres already under cultivation could be made to produce even more abundantly through application of new methods can not be doubted. All practical information should be eagerly sought. And it is to proffer such information that the speakers will appear at the institute this afternoon. Be on hand, and get your share. This is important.

SEE

(By George Matthew Adams)

There are two ways of Seeing. One with the Eyes and one with the Mind. Helen Keller recently stated in a public address that there were many people more blind than she. She was right. The Blind are those who WILL NOT see.

Keep your Eyes and Mind wide Open. Joseph Pulitzer, the late Blind Editor of the New York World, made his newspaper great not until after he became Blind. Prescott wrote his Histories with Sightless Eyes. P. S. Henson, the great Preacher, with but one Eye, has Seen more and learned more than most people would with a dozen Eyes. The Blind many time see most.

Keep your Eyes and Mind wide Open. Use your Eyes. See Things. And after you See them, make Friends out of them. No two people See Things exactly the same. Watt saw Latent Power in the Steam that came out of his mother's Tea Kettle. Franklin saw another kind of usefulness snapping from the tail of his Kite. The followers of these men saw enough from what they Saw to adopt it and force civilization ahead by scores of years.

Keep your Eyes and Mind wide Open. Many of the really Big Things in this world have not yet been Seen. You, at your humble task Today, may See some of them, or shadows of them. And if you do, persist in Seeing. There is always this one great way to Learn and Grow—to resolve on Seeing everything that can be Seen. But your Eyes are only half. To See with your Mind is the other half.

Keep your Eyes and Mind wide Open.

UNEXPECTED FIND MADE IN AMARILLO

INTERESTING STORY BY WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN MADE TO PLANT JUICE MAN

Here is the statement of Mr. John A. Thrall, a stationery engineer, he told his story as follows:

Bloomington, Ill., 24—My home before I came to Amarillo. First was eight months ago. I was in fearful shape. First, I had been down with typhoid fever, taken in August and was in bed until October. I then got up and was finally very weak for a long time and finally was taken down again with Gonorrhea. I was in bed again for several months. When I began to rally some, the doctors said I had lung trouble and had better go west. I packed up things and came to Amarillo. The strange help of no one but I was still in a bad way when I heard of Plant Juice, and came here to Thompson's store to investigate. I got a bottle, have been taking it for ten days and such a change it has made in me. I feel better than I have in two years and in a few more days I will be able to go to work—any kind of work, no matter what it is. I eat heartily, sleep fine and am getting stronger every day. I would not have believed such possible ten days ago. I want all the world to know what Plant Juice has done for me, for I am sure it will be of great help to hundreds of others.

Such stories as that of Mr. Thrall are heard every hour in this day. In cities throughout Texas. It is truly the world's newest, greatest and most reliable tonic, for all derangements of stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. Those who are run down, feel sick and worn out should have some of this getting Plant Juice. It is sold at Thompson's.

A prudent mother is always on the watch for symptoms of worms in her children. Paleless lack of interest in play, and peevishness is the signal for WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. Government Employees Want Pension

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—The much discussed plan to establish a pension fund for the benefit of the civil service employees of the Federal government is likely to be given concrete form as the result of a conference which was opened in this city today. The conference, which will continue two days, is attended by representatives of every department of the government service. The chief task is to agree upon a plan that will be just and equitable to the government as well as to the employees. Some are of the opinion that the proposed pension fund should be supported entirely by appropriations from the government, while others favor a plan which pro-
